A RECORD WAS REPORTED ABOUT YOU. HERE IS WHAT YOU CAN DO.

[Customer name] obtained a consumer report about you from Authenticating.com LLC d/b/a Authenticate, a consumer reporting agency. The report contained information from criminal, registry or similar records.

If the record is not yours, or is inaccurate or out of date, you can dispute it — for free.

Records are matched to people using identifiers such as name and date of birth. Sometimes they match the wrong person. If that has happened to you, Authenticate will investigate and correct it.

To dispute the record or get a free copy of your report:

- Online: authenticate.com/consumer-rights
- Email: disputes@authenticating.com
- Toll-free: (833) 283-7439
- Mail: Authenticating.com LLC, 1743 Sidewinder Dr, #109, Park City, UT 84060

Tell us your full name, date of birth, the company that requested the report, and what you believe is wrong. Authenticate will respond within five business days and tell you what happens next.

Authenticate did not make any decision about you. Any decision was made by [Customer name]. Authenticate can correct the record; it cannot change the decision. If the record is corrected, contact [Customer name] to ask them to reconsider.

Your full rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act are described in the CFPB's Summary of Your Rights, at authenticate.com/consumer-rights.
